

Healthy snacks in primary schools

There is a legal duty for local authorities and schools to promote healthy eating in schools. The Welsh Government and Welsh Network of Healthy School Schemes recommend a whole-school approach.

Food brought into school for personal consumption can be subject to restrictions at the discretion of the local authority or governing body of a school. Almost all primary schools in Wales specify only fruit and vegetables for snack during break times.

Schools should create an environment and culture where it is normal and easy for children to eat healthily. School staff, along with parents/carers, are vitally important in the development of healthy eating habits for life, through consistent messages and role modelling.

Fruit and vegetables should be the only snack at break times in primary schools because:

- they are a good source of fibre, vitamins and minerals;
- they are naturally low in calories, helping to maintain a healthy weight;
- eating a variety of fruit and vegetables can help to prevent a range of health issues such as bowel problems, cardiovascular disease and some cancers; and,
- consumption of fruit and vegetables is below recommended levels, of at least 5 portions per day.

Some primary schools also specify that fruit and vegetables at break time must be fresh.
